

Parent-Child Cellphone Contract

1. My parents will designate where I charge my phone.
2. My phone is not going to sleep at night in my room.
3. I will respect family time and keep my phone off during dinnertime, holiday gatherings, while visiting relatives, or any other time my parents ask me to.
4. I will include my parents and seek their permission before downloading apps.
5. I will share all social media passwords with my parents and allow them to connect with me on each social media site.
6. My texting conduct will be worthy of a child of God. I will not use profanity, racial slurs, or anything else that could hurt or embarrass someone.
7. I will respect my family's privacy and never give out personal information including address, phone number, location, or where they work without their permission.
8. I will not take photos of people without their permission.
9. I will not use words, take photos or share images that would offend my family.
10. I will not create a secret/private account or pretend to be someone else.
11. I will respect my family's social media rules no matter where I am or whose wifi I'm on.
12. I will let my parents know if someone wants to meet with me or sends inappropriate messages or images.
13. I will let my parents know if I discover anyone cyber-bulling.
14. I understand what I see online isn't always truth. People can be anyone they want to be online.
15. I understand this phone legally belongs to my parents and they're gracious enough to allow me to use it.
16. If I damage or lose my phone I will be responsible for the expenses.
17. I understand this cellphone is a privilege and not a right. That privilege can be suspended at my parents' discretion due to poor grades, a poor attitude or breaking any one of the rules above.
